Gregory J. Nickels, Mayor

Fleets and Facilities Department

Brenda Bauer, Director

February 14, 2008

Dear Neighbor/Interested Party :

The City of Seattle owns the vacant property at 3500 Interlake Ave. N., formerly the site of University Child Development School. The City is currently reconsidering the use of this property on a short-term basis as an interim site to support the Fire Levy Program (Temporary Fire Station No. 9 operations and storage) and has therefore withdrawn it from the Fleets and Facilities Department's excess property list. Accordingly, proposals to lease or purchase the property are no longer being considered.

The City appreciates the various proposals that members of the local community have put forward for use of the site. Those ideas have been noted and additional ongoing comments and suggestions will continue to be documented to inform any future disposition process.

Questions and comments regarding this notice should be addressed to David Hemmelgarn at david.hemmelgarn@seattle.gov or (206) 684-0701.
